A Training Partnership

with loads of benefits...

Budgeting

A skills licence allows you to access discounted prices on our training courses for 12 months. The larger the upfront investment, the greater the discount we can offer your organisation. Once booked, we help you to stay in control of your budget with regular updates.

Unsure on how much to put in? We will extend any residual budget at the date of expiry for another 12 months if you renew the licence with additional funds for the following year, no matter how large or small!

Flexibility

With a skills licence, employees can be booked onto the courses they need, when they need it. Visit the relevant course page on our website to see our public scheduled dates. There are many of these and they are publicised up to 9 months in advance, helping you plan.

If you have a large group of employees who require training you can also book a closed course on a date that suits you.

Simplicity

With only one PO and invoice raised at the beginning, skills licences simplify the booking process. Email your dedicated Account Manager to let them know which course you want to book and we'll take care of the rest!

Your Account Manager will keep a record of courses you have redeemed against the licence so at any time you can request a statement showing this and any remaining balance still available to you.

We'd love to help your company reach its training goals and we pride ourselves on the quality of our trainers and materials. Last year 99.2% of attendees said they would recommend our courses to a colleague and over 95% rated our training as 'Good' or better!
